

A white wooden signpost stands in the foreground, with a green rectangular sign hanging from its top arm. The sign features white text. In the background, a two-story house with light-colored walls and a dark roof is visible, along with several palm trees under a clear blue sky.

Ready to move?
Information
sells.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Home Energy Score

Buyers like to know what to expect. Research shows that sellers who disclose energy information sell their homes faster. In one study, even when bills were higher than average, homes that disclosed sold on average 45 days quicker than those that didn't share the information. Find out more at homeenergyscore.gov.